SPECIAL MENTIONS

Failure of Tamil Nadu Public Service Commission to make recruitment for the Vacant Government Jobs

SHRI T. R. BALU (Tamil Nadu): Madam Deputy Chairman, I am on a very important public matter pertaining to the stalemate in the functioning of the Tamil Nadu Public Service Commission.

Madam, when the country is facing a crucial unemployment problem, over 7,000 jobs are remaining vacant in the various Departments of the Government of Tamil Nadu because of the failure of the Tamil Nadu Public Service Commission. The vacancies include Group I services like Deputy Collectors and such other posts of doctors, engineers and so on.

Madam, the State Public Service Commission has not made any job notification since 15th October, 1986. Madam, the 7-Member Tamil Nadu Public Service Commission worked only for ten days in 1987 to select for Gourp IV services, and has worked only for 19 days in 1988 to select District Munsiffs.

Madam, the reputation of this institution has considerably deteriorated and it has been reduced to that of a wholesale Government market wherein jobs are sold at reasonable prices. As a matter of fact, a murder case accused was selected for the post of Deputy Collector and a Sub-Inspector who was under suspension for criminal assault has been selected for the post of DSP. Marks have been extensively altered. Deserving candidates have been denied of their opportunities and unsuitable candidates were recruited on extraneous considerations. Madam, a candidate for the post of Revenue Divisional Officer has secured only 33 marks in his law paper but they have been boosted to 66, and with similar changes in other papers, he was selected with the help of an Under Secretary of the Commission for an extraneous consideration of
